

Masterand*innen und Doktorand*innen Kolloquium FG AIO

Dienstags, 17:15-18:45, via Zoom mit wöchentlichen Meeting-Links über den Verteiler

Datum	Thema	Vortragende*r
02.11.2021	The occurrence of miscues of automated explosives detection systems for cabin baggage screening	David Hügli
09.11.2021	"Do you feel sorry for the robot?" - The effects of anthropomorphic framing on empathy in HRI	Jacobe Klein & Sarah Schömbbs
16.11.2021
23.11.2021	The Influence of Context and Task Sociability on the Human Preference for Robots' Anthropomorphism and Perceived Gender	Maris Heuring
30.11.2021	Delivery Robots - Effekte des Anthropomorphismus	Johannes Pickl
07.12.2021	Calibrating trust in AI – How do transparency and difficulty of errors influence trust, intention to use, and attributed responsibility towards an Artificial Intelligence agent in a visual detection task?	Katharina Koch
14.12.2021	Der Einfluss unterschiedlich hohen Risikos auf die Mensch-AI Interaktion	Hannah Fahnenstich
04.01.2022
11.01.2022	Trust-related Aspects of Human-Human and Human-AI Interaction in Health-care Evaluations	Luisa Kugler
18.01.2022
25.01.2022	Predicting behavioral intention after a video demonstration and the perceived impact of four digital learning technologies on active learning, repetition, and feedback	David Sprenger
01.02.2022
08.02.2022	Kann künstliche Intelligenz unerwünschte Biases verstärken oder abmildern?	Eileen Roesler & Tobias Rieger
15.02.2022	Anthropomorphismus und Embodiment in der Mensch-Roboter-Interaktion	Johanna zu Putlitz